FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Rainbopedia Hosts Fall Frolic Fundraiser on International Coming Out Day

LGBTQ Nonprofit Invites All to an Evening of Dining and Entertainment

Los Angeles, CA (September 2021) – Rainbopedia, the game-changing online global LGBTQ archive, is hosting their Fall Frolic benefit, an evening of cocktails and dinner, at James' Beach, the iconic Venice Beach restaurant, on October 11, 2021, International Coming Out Day. The evening includes a Speakeasy Revue featuring celebrated artists John Fleck, Janet Klein, Odious Ari, and The Boyfriend.

Event tickets are available for $150, which includes a cocktail, dinner, and show, or $100, which includes a cocktail, appetizer, and show. Tickets may be purchased online here: <https://rainbopedia.betterworld.org/events/fall-frolic>.

Silent Online Auction

Included in the night of festivities will be a silent online auction of an eclectic mix of treasures, including generous gift cards for restaurants and hotels, a professional astrological reading, and an enticing goodie bag from The Pleasure Chest. New auction items are being added frequently, so bidders are encouraged to visit the auction site often for updates.

An auction preview can be seen online here: <https://rainbopedia.betterworld.org/auctions/fall-frolic-auction-benefit-rain>. Items will also be on view at James' Beach the night of the event. The auction is open to all, and does not require purchase of a Fall Frolic ticket to participate. Bidding will begin October 1, 2021, and close at 9:00 pm PDT the night of the benefit, October 11, 2021.
